SECRETARY CANNERS IN CONFERENCE WITH UTAH MEN

F. E. Gorrell, secretary of the National Canners' association, was in Ogden today in conference with the Utah Canners' association, taking up matters concerning the pack for the present season. The government is asking for an estimate of the pack that each canning association will be able to can this season, so that the percentages can be made of the amount required by the government for its own use.

Each company is required to set aside a certain per cent of its pack for the government. It is said by the local canners that an estimate cannot be given at this time, as there is nothing on which to base an estimate.

The local organization and the federal organization will work together to carry on their operations according to the needs of the government.

One matter that is giving considerable concern to the government as well as the canners is that of supplying tin cans for the packing of the vegetable products.

Mr. Gorrell is traveling through the country in the interest of the government and the national canning association.

WATER MUST NOT BE WASTED, IF RESTRICTIONS DURING THE SUMMER ARE TO BE AVOIDED

Owing to the great number of war gardens planted this spring which will draw heavily on the city water supply for irrigation purposes, the city officials are desirous of getting the immediate co-operation of the water users in conserving the water supply. It was said at the city hall this morning that if the public will assist by the exercise of common discretion throughout the city in the use of water, the citizens may in that manner avoid the necessity and inconvenience of being placed on regulations that will restrict the use of water to certain hours.

In bringing the matter before the public a proclamation has been issued by Commissioner Chris Flygare, superintendent of the water supply and waterworks, as follows:

Show Your Patriotism in the Proper Use and Conservation of Water Supply

"In order to be assured of a sufficient water supply for the coming season, I respectfully urge all patriotic citizens of Ogden city to co-operate with the waterworks department, and ask that all lawns and gardens in the city be watered systematically during the early hours of the morning, or in the evening, if possible, so that instead of water being used twice daily, it be used once.

"War gardens have been planted in response to a call of our government so that an increased food supply be raised, and it must of a necessity occur to every patriotic minded citizen that the cultivation of these gardens call for the use of a great deal more water than ever before; also that patriotism consists not alone in the planting and caring for these gardens, but in the proper use and conservation of our water supply. We are all willing to be conservative in the use of our food, clothing, etc. Why not in the use of our water supply as well?

"We have not been asked to give up our beautiful lawns and flower beds, but we can do our part in the great conservation plan, by an intelligent use of water in caring for same; thereby leaving more water for the use of the gardens, which mean so much to the nation.

"It has been observed by our department that where lawns and gardens are watered systematically the result has been better and much more satisfactory than where it has been done promiscuously.

"Feeling assured that this matter having been called to your attention, I will have the hearty co-operation of all citizens, I remain, 'Truly yours, 'CHRIS FLYGARE, 'Superintendent Water Supply and Waterworks."

SERVICES SUNDAY AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The singing of Miss Irvine Shields was thoroughly enjoyed yesterday morning in First Presbyterian church. Miss Shields is worthy of the favored position she holds among Ogden musicians.

Mr. Saunders had not been heard in Ogden for some months until yesterday. His voice has lost none of its sweetness during the months of his California life.

In speaking of the place of the khaki book of worship and the use of the soldiers are making of it in France, Rev. Carver said in the introductory remarks last night:

"The present war has called for new thought along most every line and it is but natural that the religious mind has been abreast with new demands. The Khaki Book of Worship for the army camps contains some new channels of thought and among them the prayers for use by the submarine and the airmen are worthy of notice.

Prayer for Worship in the Submarine. "Lord, Who rulest over all, and dost according to Thy will in Heaven and in earth and in the sea and in all deep places vouchsafe us, who are now traversing the deep waters Thy favorable regard and Thy reasonable protection. Teach us in all our ways to acknowledge Thee and in these dangers to trust Thee. Though deep should call unto deep, and Thy waves and billows should go over us yet do Thou command Thy loving kindness in the daytime and cause Thy song in the night to be with us. Be pleased to grant us safety for our lives and success in our undertakings, and keep our souls and deliver them, since Thou only canst, O Lord, be our strength and our salvation."

Prayer for Flying Corps.

The prayer for use of the men in the flying corps is as interesting: "Almighty God, Who hast set the firmament in its place; have mercy we beseech Thee, on us and upon all who fly through the air. Grant us the assurance of Thy presence when we are amidst the clouds and wonders of the sky, whether in the calm sunshine or surrounded by the thick mists of darkness and storm. And uphold us lest we fall, O God of our righteousness; for Thy mercy is unto the heavens and Thy truth unto the clouds."

The Soldiers' Prayer.

The soldier's prayer for his country is as interesting. It is: "Almighty God, Who hast established our nation in freedom and righteousness; We pray Thee to fire the heart of our government and people with that holy faith and courage which made her fathers strong in the day of battle; that, whether they labor at home or follow her flag into far seas and foreign countries, their labors may be blessed of Thee, and her unstained flag may be the symbol of justice and strength. Give wisdom and grace to Thy servant, the president of the United States and unity to her counsels. Uplift all hearts to the inspiration of those great ideals of liberty and truth for which so many lives have been laid down; and grant that the sacrifice may be crowned with victory. Sustain the army and navy by Thy right arm. Proclaim Thy power among the nations; reveal Thy glory among

EDWARD BROWN IS TO DELIVER LECTURE AT WEBER CLUB

Edward Brown, F. L. S., of London, England, will be in Ogden tomorrow and will deliver a lecture on the food situation at a meeting in the Weber club of the Round Table at noon. Mr. Brown is traveling through the United States for the department of agriculture and his coming to Ogden is considered very fortunate. He is a man of international reputation, the author of several books, and a writer on subjects of close relationship to the present food situation.

The appearance of Mr. Brown here is to be directed by the Weber club and the Weber county farm bureau. The county bureau urged the meeting at the Weber club so that Mr. Brown's message could be given direct to the business men of Ogden. Whenever a subject dealing with food has been considered, said Agent W. P. Thomas, the usual procedure has been to turn everything over to the farmer, but the business men ought to be keenly interested because the question is vital to them as well.

Besides being an expert on food production and being able to tell about it in relation to the war, Mr. Brown's experiences have been quite extensive. He has personally witnessed sixteen different Hun air raids on London and in making his two trips to this country, the first in 1917 his ship was attacked, going and coming, by German submarines. The torpedo of one missed the stern of the ship by only fifteen yards in one instance. Since the outbreak of the war he has made two trips to France to study food conditions there.

Mr. Ray says the control was bought by Ray & Whitney, merchandise brokers, to be held by them, and is now in their possession.

He declares he went to the coast on business with the California Packing corporation, whose agents Ray & Whitney are.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—By a margin of one vote a motion proposing that the senate proceed next Friday to consider the house woman's suffrage resolution to the constitution was defeated in the senate today. The vote was 40 to 21, just less than two-thirds.

Requests that the house resolution be disposed of or taken up Thursday were objected to by Senator Smith of South Carolina and Senator Jones said he would ask the senate tomorrow to decide when a vote should be had. The resolution was adopted by the house in January, 274 to 136. The resolution's opponents claim they have one or two votes advantages.
